Recommendations from the 2nd ArRC Scientific Conference 2024

Recommendations:

- The existence of deferent levels of training efforts and resuscitation practices in different countries enriches the arena with valuable experiences to learn from and distribute the experience of success.
- Developing a strategy of importance to help guide resuscitation in the low resource countries
- The use of all new technologies in resuscitation is of great value to look at and evaluate carefully and adopt the best practices in it e.g ECPR
- Advice to look for the new technologies that would help improve the resuscitation whether out of hospital or in hospital is warranted.
- Coming out with guidelines related to ethics of resuscitation is of utmost importance for our Arab countries that abide by our culture and religious believes.
- Implementation of new guidelines and the evaluation of outcomes is very important in directing new change an emphasis on research in the Arab countries.
- We need to implement all the prevention modalities that help improve recognition and management of heart diseases in the Arab countries.
- To encourage the community awareness and its programs across the Arab countries.
- Emphasize the role coming of artificial intelligence in resuscitation prevention and education is a new era coming that need to be utilised.
- The sport agencies need to implement strategies that deal with cardiac events and promote prevention and screening programs.
- We cannot emphasise more the need for special programs for our kids healthier life and the care of underprivileged communities (visually impaired, hearing difficulties and others) and establish programs that support and train them.
- Share the success stories of curriculum development across the Arab world.
